

“My Son”
Brandon Rhyder

We welcome to this world, a brand new bouncing baby boy
With ten fingers and ten toes, your mommas button nose
You will never believe, how much you've changed me
You will always be the star, by God's grace he gave me

Chorus:

And the beauty of it all, is lying right here in my arms
Falling fast asleep, I can feel your heart beat
Unconditional love, something I have never known
You are my boy, you are my blood, you are my son

We named you after my brother, cause he couldn't hang around
But I'll bet he's on the shoulders of an angel
Laughing and singing right now
He stole my heart, and now he's given it to you
I always new you'd be the only one, that he'd give my heart to

Chorus:

And the beauty of it all, is lying right here in my arms
Falling fast asleep, I can feel your heart beat
Unconditional love, something I have never known
You are my boy, you are my blood, you are my son
You are my boy, you are my blood, you are my son

We welcome to this world, a brand new bouncing baby boy
With ten fingers and ten toes, and your mommas button nose
